

Foam deceleration tube for residential herbicide aerosol dispenser

Abstract

This device is an element of the nozzle of an aerosol residential herbicide dispenser designed to reduce the speed at which the herbicide is delivered to an unwanted plant, preventing splattering and misapplication of the chemical to surrounding desired plants.